Singer, songwriter, guitarist Darren Roy Clarke writes songs that map the highways of his heart. Blending delicate roots, confessional country, and heartbreak folk, his music reveals a road-worn journey of the soul.

Hailing from the hidden rural musical hotbed of Warkworth, ON, Darren has been gaining recognition as a “musician’s musician,” garnering attention and sharing stages with a host of Canadian songwriters and performers.

His debut album, Dirty Face and a Broken Screen is available on streaming services everywhere.
